Sponsored by Oculus Insights, VetZ, Platinum Performance, and

Where your insights and actions meet.

Title: Small and Large Animal Surgery

Course type: Course

Content: During this full day workshop we will take you on a journey to reinvent your veterinary business. The veterinary marketplace is disrupted by new players in the field and this has a big impact on current practice owners. At the same time young veterinarians wonder if they are willing to take over existing practices with business models that very much relate to old school thinking. Large veterinary corporates own more and more practices and working there as veterinary surgeon in an 8 – 5 job seems appealing to a lot of colleagues. However, how does this relate to your own professional “freedom” and decision making? How does this relate to your own entrepreneurship? Is there a way to continue veterinary ownership of practices in a way that is appealing and sustainable for the next generation of veterinarians?
